

N. S . Global Co., Ltd., a new branch of Nuskin Company is engaged in conducting after hour training for the product distributor of Nuskin. This site provides enough space for 180 trainees. The project occupies 280 sq.m. on the 4th floor of the Olympia Tower in Bangkok. An executive office, a business meeting room, training room and hands-on training room, and several types of meeting rooms are part of the facilities provided. To integrate all these parts into a cohesive whole, a curved corridor is used to create a flowing effect from one space to another. In addition, bright primary colors are used to identify the different function of each space, incorporating the use of texture and vibrant colors to create an energetic working environment.

...bright primary colors are used to identify the different function of each space...

INTERIOR